ATHENS TECHNICAL COLLEGE

Selective Admission Testing Student Guide

Select ATC Life Science Programs use a competitive admission process to determine applicant selection. Athens Technical College administers the National League for Nursing Pre-Admission Examination (NLN) and the Test of Essential Academic Skills V for Allied Health (TEAS-V) exams. Review the ATC College Catalog (published online) to learn more about the admissions requirements/selective admission testing of a specific program. Additionally, review the ATC Testing Services webpage for test registration information.
